Comments about the training program:

- Wide variety of activities and examples on how to negotiate and good opportunities for peer interaction
- For the Advanced negotiations training, more time spent on negotiation theory, more guided role play, forced practice certain negotiation styles/situations would be high value. Discussion of hypothetical scenarios/topics among your small group was medium value. Real-world Negotiation plan review with small group was high value.
- Training was valuable and thought provoking. I found it to be helpful and educational although BD negotiations are more relational and unique.
- Very good. I like the real life examples and being able to work on our specific plans. That was very insightful.
- Was a great recap on prior fundamentals and building upon those to refresh my cognizance of using these skills.
- Good program and gave new strategies to approach multiple types of negotiations.
- Effective and kept things interesting by changing up the activities
- Overall a great program but felt more like a refresher of the original program vs really building on a lot of new skills. I do a lot of negotiating so I may have been to experienced for the class.
- Learned stronger negotiating skills and how to react.
- More negotiating exercises
